I was fortunate to work as a summer clerk at Webb Henderson over the past summer.

I was initially drawn to Webb Henderson because of their strong reputation for client service and the importance they place on staff and team culture. From day one, I was well supported and entrusted with meaningful responsibility, allowing me to develop fundamental legal skills such as drafting legal documents, observing court proceedings, reviewing contracts, and conducting due diligence.

As a smaller boutique firm, Webb Henderson provided the opportunity to be more directly involved in matters and to gain exposure to a wider range of work.

Beyond the practical experience, I felt genuinely welcomed into the team with everybody generously taking the time to explain processes and the day-to-day realities of legal practice. Webb Henderson strikes an excellent balance between professionalism and a positive, engaging office environment, and I was able to form strong connections with the team in a short period of time.

The opportunity to apply university theory in a real-world setting was invaluable, and this experience has played an important role in preparing me for the future. The summer clerk programme exceeded my expectations. I am very grateful to everyone who supported me throughout the summer and look forward to returning.
